

Please continue the "no call" list for telemarketers. The use of telemarketing by phone has become invasive and distruptive to the process of bringing the family together--which I thought was a prime Republican agenda. Let the families have some time to be with each other instead of answering annoying calls. If we want a product or charitable organization, we can find them! Thanks.